Cut in the bank rate

1448. SHRI P. PRABHAKAR REDDY: Will the Minister of FINANCE AND COMPANY AFFAIRS be pleased to state:

(a) whether the Reserve Bank of India has recently announced a cut in the bank rate;

(b) if so, the details thereof and the reasons therefor; and

(c) what, according to Government's perception, would be its likely impact on the investment climate in particular and the economic scenario in general?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF FINANCE AND COMPANY AFFAIRS (SHRI ANANDRAO VITHOBA ADSUL): (a) to (c) Yes, Sir. After a review of recent developments in the international and domestic financial markets, Reserve Bank of India (RBI) had reduced the Bank Rate by 0.25 percentage point from 6.5 per cent to 6.25 per cent with effect from October 29, 2002. After a period of industrial slow down, there are early signs of revival of the industrial sector. In order to support industrial recovery and also to promote investment in the economy, RBI has been pursuing a soft interest rate regime. Reduction of the Bank Rate signals further easing of interest rate in the economy.
